

THE ALL-NEW UTILITYFX™

THE INDUSTRY'S FIRST ALL-COMPOSITE CUTAWAY BODY

The all-new UtilityFX from BrandFX delivers the latest in advanced composite construction for a work truck that offers a quiet ride with more spacious, conveniently accessible storage capabilities. Built to withstand even the most rigorous applications, the all-composite cutaway body is specially designed to fit Ford E-Series and transit chassis.

The UtilityFX is available with 15"D x 42"H packs, as well as a 36" canopy above pack, and 124" long body.

UNMATCHED ACCESSIBILITY AND CONVENIENCE WITH THE LATEST INNOVATION FROM BRANDFX

The industry's first advanced all-composite cutaway body is now available on the market. The UtilityFX™ from BrandFX is the superior utility service unit that eliminates the need for standard service vans, combining the interior work space of a van with easier, smarter, exterior-accessible storage. Molded out of one piece of composite, with no rivets, the UtilityFX provides a leak-proof canopy that protects inventory as well as all the added benefits of a quieter ride.

LIGHTWEIGHT COMPOSITE. CORROSION-FREE CONSTRUCTION.

The UtilityFX delivers the best life cycle value available in the industry, providing up to 20 years of service under the most demanding applications. The advanced composite construction offers a substantial reduction in vehicle weight compared to other service compartments—improving fuel efficiency while reducing the weight load on tires, brakes and suspension systems.

With the benefits of zero-corrosion and zero-oxidation composite, these cutaway bodies won't bend, dent, crack, rust or degrade. The UtilityFX maintains its pristine, like-new condition for a sleek and professional appearance across entire service fleets. It's one more reason why BrandFX is trusted by 5 of the top 6 U.S. service fleets, delivering industry-proven utility units built to last a lifetime.
